Port Chester kids strut their stuff on Thanksgiving

(11/27/03) PORT CHESTER - A lucky group of kids got to strut their stuff in Thursday's 77th annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The Port Chester High School marching band spent hours Wednesday preparing for the big production. They said they are grateful to be the only band representing New York State in the parade.

The band was in the Orange Bowl last year, but they said Thursday's parade is the most publicized event they have done and their biggest honor.

The group had to go through an extensive application process to march in the parade.
